

TENTATIVE SCHEDULE

Date/Event	Session
Saturday, March 3
8 am-4:45 p.m.	Registration
8-8:45 a.m.	Hot Coffee/Hot Topic - Enjoy a cup of coffee and a continental breakfast while discussing the hot topic, "NACRC website features."
8:45-9 a.m.	Welcome Comments
9-10:30 a.m.	Land Records: What's In a Number? - Uniform Numbering System - Joan McCalmant, recorder/registrar vital records, Linn County, Iowa and PRIA Uniform Document Numbering Workgroup Co-Chair - PRIA's approval and publication of the Recording Jurisdiction Identification numbering scheme (RJID) will immediately precede the NACRC Legislative Conference. Learn why the RJID was needed for both paper document and eRecording submitters. Then participate in the conversation about what and why a format for a recorder-consistent document numbering system might be in the best interests of recorders, title plants, and lenders.
9-10:15 a.m.	Elections Administration: Best Practices of Voting Rights Act-Language Support - Terry Ao Minnis, director of census and voting programs, Asian American Justice Center; Rosalind Gold, director of outreach programs, National Association of Latino Elected Officials (NALEO); Neal Kelley, registrar of voters, Orange County, Calif. - Many voting jurisdictions were notified in 2011 that they will be required to support minority language voting. With the 2012 Presidential Election cycle front and center it is critical that jurisdictions have comprehensive outreach programs in place if they are required to support various languages under the Voting Rights Act. You'll learn from language advocacy groups about best practices and from Orange County, Calif., about their language support programs.
10:30-10:45 a.m.	Coffee Break
10:45 a.m.-noon	General Session: Leadership & Creating Ethical Government Organizations - M. Edward Heilman, CFE, supervisory criminal investigator, Washington, D.C. Office of the Chief Financial Officer
Noon-1:30 p.m.	Luncheon (for all attendees)
1:30-2:30 p.m.	Records Management: Records Management in a Facebook Era - Peggy Winton, AIIIM -The focus of information technology is changing from a traditional focus on standardizing and automating back-end manual processes – a focus on CONTROL – to a focus on empowering and connecting knowledge workers and improving knowledge worker productivity and innovation. Because these systems are being used by enterprises, they will inevitably be subject to the same legal and social restrictions as traditional enterprise content, and therein lies the rub. Today, that rub is significantly limiting endorsement and adoption of consumer-style communication and collaboration facilities around the world, and it will continue to do so until the content management industry and its customers develop protocols and policies to address its issues. Given that technology policy and regulation and law always lag technology practice, what kind of obstacles do outdated policies and regulations pose to rapid implementation of social business systems? What is the governance framework we want to place around social content?
1:30-3 p.m.	Clerk to Board: Open Records and Transparency: "SeeTheSpending.org" - Jason Anderson, vice president for policy, Mississippi Center for Public Policy - This presentation will explain how the Mississippi Center for Public Policy worked with county clerks in Mississippi to receive claims paid and other data in mass , highlighting how it was done in a way that protected private information (such as Social Security numbers) and was and is still very usable. Hear how board clerks can work together with public records requestors.
2:30-3 p.m.	NACRC Certification - Kathi Guay, register of deeds, Merrimack County, N.H./NACRC Certification Chair - Individual appointments available!
3-3:15 p.m.	Break
3:15-4:45 p.m.	Land Records/Clerk to Board: Sovereign Citizens and Their Impact on County Governments - Casey Carty, supervisory special agent, Domestic Terrorism Operation Unit (DIOU) at FBIHQ - Who and what are the people who name themselves sovereign citizens? Recordors and clerks to the board are often the people on the front line facing these individuals and their paper terrorism efforts. Learn how to identify a document likely prepared by a sovereign citizen. What are these citizens trying to accomplish or stop? Find out to whom and under what circumstances encounters with these individuals should be reported to law enforcement. Share stories about your own county-specific encounters and discuss strategies for most effectively handling these individuals.

3:15-4:45 p.m.	Election Administration: Top Five Election Changes Before Congress/Best and Worst Election Bills - Thomas Hicks, (Democrat, Minority), senior elections counsel, U.S. House of Representatives Committee on House Administration; Peter Schalestock, (Republican, Majority), deputy general counsel, U.S. House of Representatives Committee on House Administration - Each year brings new challenges for election officials in the form of new rules, regulations and laws. While many bills are introduced at the federal level each year many never become law, for a variety of reasons. You'll hear first hand from both parties about what bills are under consideration and what is likely to become law in the near future. The House Administration Committee oversees federal election issues in the United States.
5:30-7:30 p.m.	President's Reception
Sunday, March 4
7:30-8 a.m.	Worship Service (optional)
8-8:45 a.m.	Hot Coffee/Hot Topic - Enjoy a cup of coffee and a continental breakfast while discussing the hot topic, "What do you want to hear about at the Annual Conference?"
8:45-9:15 a.m.	NACRC Membership Meeting - Hear about the state of the association and also vote on proposed revisions
9:15-10:30 a.m.	Records Management: Roundtable - Moderator: Larry Burness, chief deputy recorder, Washoe County, Nev. - A lively discussion will include topics that affect everyone - from budget issues to technology solutions, from records inventory control to bulk records sales. Bring your issues, bring your thinking caps and contribute your thoughts and concerns. Get feedback from your peers around the country. There are no wrong answers and there are no stupid questions, so join us.
9:15-10:30 a.m.	Election Administration: Voter Fraud - Fact vs. Fiction Roundtable
10:30-10:45 a.m.	Coffee Break
10:45 a.m.-noon	Land Records: Roundtable - Moderator: Tony Vigliotti, register of deeds, Worcester County, Mass. - Are recording levels in your jurisdiction holding steady, increasing or still falling? Have you or your county joined a lawsuit involving MERS? Why or why not? What is the "next hurdle" for recorders? We've met and conquered go-forward document imaging, conversions to create digital images of documents previously recorded, redaction techniques for personally identifiable information (such as social security numbers), and putting our indexes and documents on the web. What is the new frontier for which we need to be preparing? Join the discussion about these topics and more.
10:45 a.m.-noon	Clerk to Board/Court Admin: Roundtable - Moderator: Larry Swale, chancery clerk, Rankin County, Miss. - Are your governing board minutes searchable and viewable on the web? What search engine are you using? Are the documents in PDF format? Can you print copies from the web? How far back in time are they accessible from the web? Bring your own hot topics and join in the discussion!
Noon-2 p.m.	Board Meeting
