Orange County Assistant Comptroller, Carol Foglesong, Receives Prestigious Linda S. Carter Award for Excellence in Government

Morrisville, N.C. - The Linda S. Carter Award for Excellence in Government was presented to Assistant Comptroller of Orange County, Fla., Carol Foglesong, at the Annual Conference of the National Association of County Recorders, Election Officials and Clerks (NACRC) on July 12 in Kansas City, Mo.

The Linda S. Carter Award for Excellence in Government was established by NACRC in 2000 and named for a vibrant and energetic member who was serving as NACRC's 2nd Vice-President at the time of her death on August 28, 2000. People like Carter provide the strength of the organization; this award recognizes that type of service.

Foglesong is currently the Treasurer of NACRC and has been an active member and officer of the board for many years. She wears more hats for NACRC alone than one could imagine and exhibits great care with every task she undertakes. In just the past year, she has been instrumental in revising the bylaws, planning Land Records sessions, bringing the NACRC logo back to its original colors, and has once again taken on the ever important task of managing NACRC finances. With all those commitments to our association, it is hard to believe she is also the president of another national association, the Property Records Industry Association (PRIA).

Foglesong has spent the last 17 years providing service and dedication to her office. She is always willing to help others and share her knowledge and experience, as well as any data she is able to assemble. Says NACRC President Beverly Kaufman, "There is no more dedicated a public servant than our Carol. Her devotion to her profession as well as her involvement at the state and national level in providing solid leadership and guidance to the land records industry sets a standard difficult to emulate and worthy of this prestigious recognition.”
